Then his brother the late Randall Massey, Sr. came over and said he could use the whole area because his wife left him. Once before he asked his borhter if he could used it for horse pasture and he said it was alright. After that he started working on field, cutting cottonwood tree and he asked Land Operations if they could clear the field for him, which they did by trees toward the river and he asked his brother if he could move the fence and it was okay with him after that he plowed it and plant grass, fixed fence, bought some barbed wire fence, put up new wire around the field. He put in a lot of work and spent money on the land.
